THREE MILLION MEN IN FIERCE COMBAT

Hottest Fight Is Against the French Center.

London, Sept. 11 .- The crucial battle of the war in France has not yet reached any decisive result. Field Marshal Sir John French, commander of the British forces, reported that the Germans had been driven back all along the line; that the British had crossed the River Marne; that the Germans had suffered severely and that their men were supposed to be in a very exhausted condition.

Notwithstanding this report the military writers in the London papers repeat that from the conservative terms of the French official statement it is too early to anticipate the result of a battle extending over a front of nearly a hundred miles. days, when it is remembered that smaller operations in Manchuria, in which hundreds of thousands only were concerned, lasted a fortnight.

The German western armies have been fighting almost continuously for twenty-five days and, until the last phase of the campaign, on the offensive. Field Marshal French's view that they are becoming exhausted finds ready credence among the military experts here.

A German official wireless dispatch says that no report has been made public in Berlin of the events in France for the past three days.

from Scandinavian countries, while Holland promises to be Germany's principal avenue of commerce with the outer world. That the Germans are concentrating all their strength in the eastern field of warfare against the main French front appears to be confirmed by reports which have arrived through Holland. Most of the troops left in Belgium are said to be men past the prime of life, of the landstrum, while 30,000 or 40,000 naval reserves are marching in to replace the depleted

NOT READY FOR PEACE

Allies Waiting for Decisive Battle.

President Wilson Admits Signs Are Discouraging.

Washington, Sept. 11.-There is no present prospect of peace in Europe through the efforts of diplomacy. President Wilson himself set at rest rumors that peace measures were in the making by revealing that no intimation had been conveyed to him officially from any quarter of a readiness on the part of one or more of the belligerents to talk peace.

The developments emphasized that Great Britain and France and Russia were grimly determined to make no peace until they had decisively beaten Germany and Austria.

The conference between the American ambassador and the British foreign secretary is said to have occurred on the initiative of the latter. Sir Edward Grey, it is understood, explained that in view of newspaper rumors to the effect that Germany was ready to make peace Great Britain did not want to appear in the light of blocking the move.

To make peace now, while German troops held Belgium and a large part of France, might cause Germany to exact unreasonable terms on the basis of occupied territory, according to the Prince Joachim Albrecht Hit by British view.

Signs Are Not Encouraging.

On the side of Germany and Austria, likewise, the president has found no encouraging signs for peace. Asked whether the message he had received from Emperor William was susceptible of interpretation as a peace overture the president said it did not open the way in that direc-

The answer may be merely a courteous acknowledgment of the German emperor's message, or it may be the expression of the hope that the rules of warfare laid down by The Hague conventions will be binding on all belligerents. The answer may refer to the president's standing offer of mediation. Observers in close touch with the White House thought the first course to be the most likely, merely acknowledging the message. It was said the feeling was general among officials that the present was not the time to press for peace with prospects of success.

NOT READY

FOR PEACE

President Wilson Admits Signs Are Discouraging.

Washington, Sept. 11.—There is no present prospect of peace in Europe through the efforts of diplomacy. President Wilson himself set at rest rumors that peace measures were in the making by revealing that no intimation had been conveyed to him officially from any quarter of a readiness on the part of one or more of the elligerents to talk peace.

The developments emphasized that Great Britain and France and Russia were grimly determined to make no peace until they had decisively beaten Germany and Austria.

The conference between the American ambassador and the British foreign secretary is said to have occurred on the initiative of the latter. Sir Edward Grey, it is understood, explained that in view of newspaper rumors to the effect that Germany was ready to make peace Great Britain did not want to appear in the light of blocking the move.

To make peace now, while German troops held Belgium and a large part of France, might cause Germany to exact unreasonable terms on the basis of occupied territory, according to the British view.

Signs Are Not Encouraging.

On the side of Germany and Austria, likewise, the president has found no encouraging signs for peace. French Meet Germans.

Paris, Aug. 10.-It is announced officially that cavalry engagements between the French and Germans south of the Meuse have occurred.

There is more Caretto in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 14 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucuous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

At the Columbia

A remarkable picture program was presented last night with the same bill on again for tonight. Mary Pickford appears in a beautiful Irish play that will surely touch the heart, entitled "Wilful Peggy." "The House on the Hill" was a very strong feature. Something doing we want to tell you.

See These Garments Tomorrow

From the top of the garment to the lowest hem, every Coat or Suit with the O'Brien label will bear the most critical inspection. We are proud of these superb garments and glad to recommend them. However, five minutes of seeing will tell much more than pages of type, and the exhibit is at its very best right now.

A SPECIAL SHOWING TOMORROW

A special display of the latest arrivals has been arranged for tomorrow. If you care for pretty things, come, look as much as you like. You will not be importuned to buy.

Two typical examples of these new styles are shown herewith, though, of course, no illustration could do them justice.
